

PostOurs^{MD}

The logo consists of the word "PostOurs" in a stylized font. The word "Post" is rendered in a white, 3D-outlined font, while "Ours" is in a solid black, bold font. A hand-drawn black arrow points upwards from the top of the letter 't' in "Post" towards the top of the letter 'O' in "Ours". A small, handwritten-style letter 'h' is positioned above the arrow's tip. To the right of "Ours" is a small "MD" trademark symbol.

Are we a product of this time and place.

then what is our worth?

The following posters (postours, posthours) is an attempt to document thoughts, feelings, experiences and circumstances around me. I intend to use these works as a base for further visual exploration with the intent of expanding my visual vocabulary.

BIGSOWATI

Oh god

I am the only girl, and the youngest

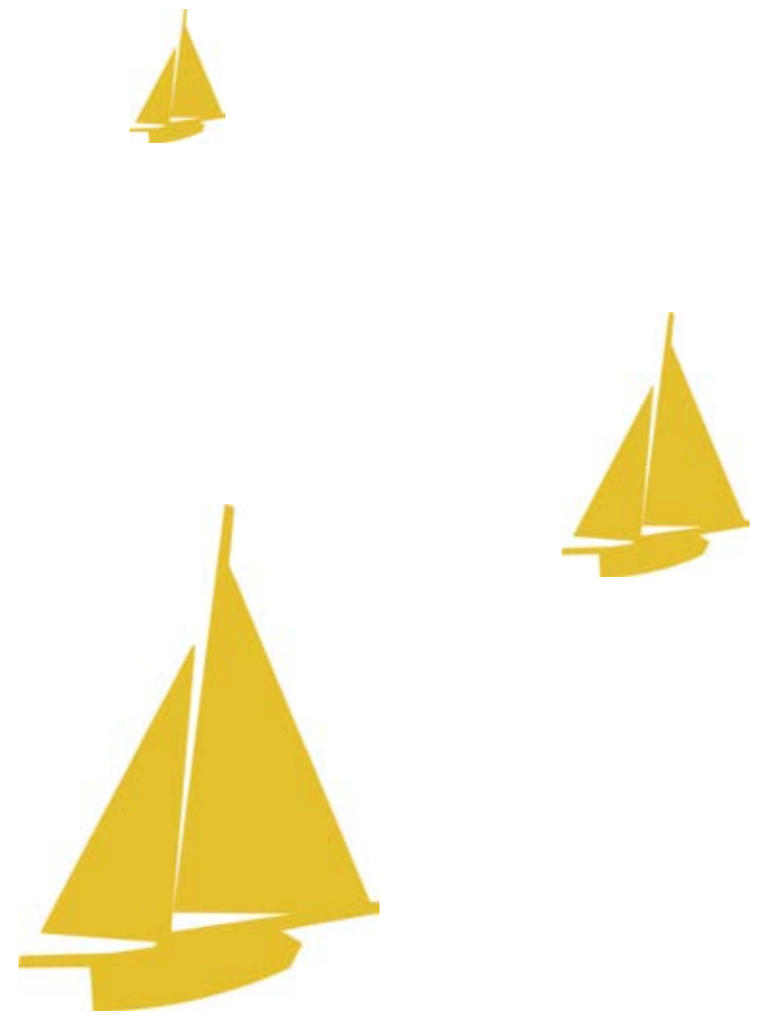

It's complex, it never quite makes any sense, like and out's, up and down's, leading and following me to this mechanical construct of feelings, and thoughts and sexual drives, mechanical and sexual drives, smooth lines and curves,

Concussion, fighting to be devoid of emotion and operate, strive to be mechanical, but somehow it withers and I fall. Coiling together, to protect my forcing a construction that can't be Hiding,
Pointing, Joining Merging
And constructing,
A well oiled machine.
